How to use this page

Noorani Qaida Chart 3: Vowels, Tanween, Sukoon

Name: _____

Teacher: _____

Read each row from right to left. Fatha is a small mark above a letter (an 'a' sound), kasra a small mark below (an 'i' sound) and damma a small curl above (a 'u' sound). Tanween is a double mark at the end of a word that adds an 'n' sound. Here it sits on a single letter for practice. Sukoon means no vowel. Its shape changes from print to print, so ask your teacher to point it out.
